Notes：

1. All fields above must be typed on a computer. If any manual corrections are made, the applicant must sign or stamp at the correction site.
2. Supporting documents must be attached (including the current journal cover and index, proof of acceptance or publication, and a hardcopy photocopy of the journal paper).
3. According to Article 12 of the Ph.D. Program Academic Regulations of the Graduate Institute of Finance: Students may waive the elective component of the qualifying examination by publishing a paper (must be the first author or corresponding author) in a relevant peer-reviewed international academic journal or TSSCI journal under their affiliation as a doctoral student in the Department of Finance at NYUST. Each journal article may be used to waive the elective component of the qualifying examination only once. A journal article may be used by only one student to fulfill the doctoral program requirements of the Department. All other co-authors must submit written consent waiving their right to use the same article to fulfill the doctoral program requirements of the Department. Journals included on the Office of Research and Development's list of “Discouraged Journals or Publishers” are excluded.
An application for journal-publication substitution must be submitted and approved before the student sits for the retake of the elective qualifying examination. Once the student has taken the retake and failed, no subsequent application for substitution under this Article may be made.
4. Papers used to waive qualification exam subjects cannot be reused for the final degree examination application.
